

Thank you for your interest in obtaining help from South Central Communications for your non-profit organization.

As a corporate citizen, South Central has the desire and interest to help benefit the communities in which we operate. We provide help on several different levels including donations of trucks, office equipment, supplies and materials. Where feasible, we also donate the time of men and equipment to help with community functions. Finally, we also provide monetary donations to certain causes.

While there are a limitless number of worthy causes, we have limited resources. That means we must balance each request against specific guidelines. Some of those guidelines include:

- The organization must be “not-for-profit.” There shouldn’t be any commercial purpose attached with the organization or project nor should the organization’s leaders stand to gain financially.
- Generally speaking, we only make contributions to organizations, not individuals. (We do provide scholarships to deserving high school students each year but through a different program.) On rare occasions we will make a contribution to an individual if the end result of the project will benefit a community or larger population of people.
- We usually will only make one contribution during any two year period to an organization.
- We evaluate the financial aspects of requests based upon the total cost of the project, the size of other contributions, how many other contributions have been made, and the total number of donors.
- We only contribute to those projects or organizations that we deem to be in the best interest of the communities we serve.
- We look for innovative programs that effectively use technology to improve the lives of people in communities.

We review requests for funding or in-kind contributions as they are received. Decisions are usually made 4-6 weeks after we receive a completed application. If you have questions about the status of an application you may contact us at 435-986-0838.
